Secretary's Report

Welcome to the April edition of the National Rodeo Association Sports News. This month is quiet as for Rodeos, but I am sure we all have a lot of work to catch up on at home.

As for our Committees, I would like to welcome Brisbane Mega Bull, Charters Towers, Lismore, Glenmorgan and Murgon (is now a maximum point award Rodeo) to the National Rodeo Association and hope they have a successful Rodeo in 1993 to look forward to having another in 1994.

If anyone is interested in supplying the National Rodeo Association with good quality photographs, please contact me at the of-office. The N.R.A. are prepared to pay anyone who supplies photos on each event. So if you are interested please contact me as soon as possible, as we will require photos for the next month's Sports News.

On the 14 April, I would like to wish my Mother a happy 51st Birthday. Dale Jones has gone in for his operation on 27 March, and I'll let you know how he is next month. As for Mick Johnson, he broke his leg on 19 March. I hope he gets back on the road soon, as the saying goes "break a leg," to which he did.

All Members remember when entering on the Central Entries answering machine to wait for the tone before you say your nominations or otherwise the office does not receive them. Then on the day you are complaining about your name not being on the list, please remember if you do not wait for the tone, we cannot put your nominations in as we do not know if you have nominated or not.

That is about all for this month, take care when travelling.

Let's Rodeo!!!

Executive Director Marketing

This being my first report for 1993, I firstly would like to review last year. As far as marketing, the NRA highlight of the year was our Finals where we saw a few firsts for the NRA.

It was the first time the NRA had put together a team of people to market the finals to sponsors and the public. Through the dedication and hard work of these people, the NRA for the first time had a number of national companies sponsoring the finals and recognizing the benefits of being associated and endorsed by the NRA and sport of Rodeo. This very well could be the beginning of our recognition in the market place. The sponsorship gained enabled the NRA for the very first time to be able to use metropolitan commercial television in its advertising programme.

This television advertising not only lifted Rodeo's profile in the eyes of the public, but probably saved the finals from a financial loss when on a Saturday night we were hit with a power blackout and thunder storms and still managed in the dark to get a good crowd.

Two of these major sponsors were introduced to the NRA via one of our members giving me a lead on them and assisting in the introduction. This member being Mike Ross and to him on behalf of the NRA I say thanks.

This year the NRA took on promoting

Rosewood Rodeo. From a marketing stand, this Rodeo carried more advertising and more sponsorship, I believe, than it has in many years and with the hard work by Terry McHugh and Paul Range on the day and lead up to it, I am sure you agree that it paid off with a very successful rodeo which returned to what it used to be.

Rodeo Committees. Later this year the NRA hopes to incorporate a six Rodeo series with a multiple of sponsors. For us to put this together and market it to sponsors we need six rodeos to be involved in it. If your rodeo is interested in being one of the six, write to me giving details of your rodeo inclusive of details relating to public attendance, bar and food sales, planned advertising and promotional schedules etc. Committees, if you have any enquiries please phone me.

On a personal note I am promoting MegaBULL Spectacular. Providing this event is supported by the public and remains financially feasible, it is hoped to run on the last Friday night of each month, commencing in April. These six events will be treated as a series with a Buckle at the end for the Series Champion. MegaBULL Spectacular, will be held indoors at Pinelodge Equestrian Centre, Thomlands and it is hoped that this on-going rodeo interest in this area will enhance our finals. I personally would be appreciative for any help with this promotion.

In recent months I have been doing a fair amount of work associated with the National Rodeo Council of Australia. I have come to know these people and their ideals a lot closer and I believe them to be very dedicated to improving and lifting the profile of our sport to where it belongs. At the moment with the Australian economy the way it is and other influences, this is one hell of a tough job, but they are still going forward learning and stronger all the time, whereas, I am sure others would have spat the dummy long ago. Everybody in rodeo can assist for example, support and buy the magazine which represents us, "Rodeo in Australia". Consider advertising in this magazine, as it is a great medium. "Rodeo in Australia" represents a united voice of our sport to the general public and potential corporate supporters. You can also assist by buying tickets in the current Art Union and for your trouble you might just walk away with a $70,000 truck and gooseneck.

Let me also take this opportunity to thank those who have supported me in this job and to wish good luck to all competitors in 1993.

Saddle Bronc Director

As a participating member of the Board of Directors, I have been approached to write an article for this month's Newsletter. Apart from my position as Saddle Bronc Director, I am first and foremost a competitor, making me aware of both sides of rodeo. As a Director, my position is to represent the competing members to the administration, then mediate back to the members, thus making me a spokesperson. Although there is a director for each event, each and everyone of us has a responsibility to every competitor, so if you require assistance or advice, we are all approachable. Or, if you would like us to voice your opinion on a matter, we are here for you.

Since becoming involved with the administration, I can appreciate not only the extra work behind the scenes, but also the fact that rodeo is not only a sporting event each weekend, but also a business and should be treated and respected as such.

Always remember, no matter where you may be or what you are doing, if you are portraying that of a cowboy image, i.e., hat, buckle etc., always act in a dignified manner, as you are an ambassador for our sport. Any undue bad publicity may be detrimental to future rodeos and promotions.

I would like to portray my thanks to all those competitors who at each rodeo take time out to help in the arena, pulling chute gates etc. This may be a boring job, but it is essential for the smooth running of the programme.

As you are aware, there are new rules concerning the Credit Card Bond. Competitors please note: if you do not abide by these rules, a director cannot assist you and pull strings to allow you to compete. The rule has been passed and everyone should be aware of such, they are there to be abided by and for the benefit of all.

Each month the Association is trying to expand, especially with our newsletter. If you have a business or maybe even your boss would like to advertise via it, the rates are competitive and the coverage vast. Or maybe you have an interesting article you would like entered for all to see.

Remember it takes little to criticise, but a lot to participate!

As our chosen sport of rodeo is very competitive, it is always necessary to be "Good Sports." No matter how determined you are to win, there can only be one winner. My theory being: I want to win, but I would rather go out to beat myself each and every weekend and improve, than to beat someone else. It is always nice to win, but it takes a stronger person to smile and congratulate a winner, after you have not placed yourself.

Along the lines of good sportsmanship is criticism. If you have a problem, there is nothing worse than criticising and bitching among your friends. It is a small world and I can safely say nearly every time this happens, it gets back to the person concerned and only causes more "sour grapes". Air your differences for the benefit of all!

Ken Read Jnr.

Wiangaree Rodeo postponed

Wiangaree Rodeo has been postponed until 24 April, 1993. Remember, if you have already entered you do not have to enter again. If you would like to enter and didn't before, you still can, as long as it is before the closing date. If you have entered and are not going now, you must phone the office and cancel your nominations.

Fines

If you have presented N.R.A. a cheque and it has bounced the penalty will be $30 to cover bank charges and a fine. If you have bounced 2 cheques, you will not be able to present N.R.A. another cheque. It must be a money order/cash/bank cheque.

How Novice Works

Once you have reached the $500 limit in novice money only, you are no longer eligible for novice. It does not matter if you were in the top ten standings in the finals the year before.

Credit Card explained

Credit Card is no longer. This is called Central Entries as the $50/$15 bond you have paid into Central Entries is not to be used.

At each rodeo you must pay for your nominations for that day or your next nominations will not be accepted, regardless of the excuse you may have. If you have entered for the next rodeo and you do not have $50/$15 bond in Central Entries and you go the distance to travel to Rodeo and your name is not on the list, do not raise your voice to the secretary. It is your own fault for not having your bond up-to-date. If you are not sure give the office a ring and find out how much you have in Central Entries before you travel to the next rodeo.

All monies must be in hand at head office before we can accept your entries for the following rodeo. For example, you cannot phone up stating that you will update at the following rodeo to bring your bond back up-to-date.
