Marcus Jones – Executive Director – Committees

This year was the 51st year of competition for the NRA. Whilst things have changed considerably in Rodeo in today's society we all have to move with it, some for the better and some not.

The change of stock, breeding programs, arena sizes, indoor and out, but the reflection on better and better competition every year shows our progression with the times.

Over the last 3 years we affiliated an additional 32 events through the NRA. Due to our standing commitment from the board, office staff, committees, contractors and competitors it's proof we are all working in the right direction. To the new committees that have joined us thank you, and to the ones coming on to the calendar next year welcome.

With the prizemoney totals being raised this year at the finals and the addition of Maryborough, next year is likely to have more rounds as discussions have already been had with another long-term committee of the association.

It's not all peaches and cream though. The greater majority of feedback we received this year is very positive towards our events due to the easy operational aspects on the day and less stress for the committees. A big thank you to all our Rodeos secretaries on the day of the event, well done. Your professionalism and committee support goes a long way. Working with all the committees of the NRA over the last 3 years has let me meet some awesome people and create great friendships with people I would otherwise not encounter. This has helped us to listen to their needs as well as the Associations.

We have had a few minor issues to date but once discussed at board meetings there is always an easy resolution to fix it. To the competitor's thanks for your help. The little things you do help and do reflect back on you. Whether it's picking up your rubbish when you leave the grounds or even just as simple as a thank you when you pick up your prizemoney. With our Junior Rodeo developments days, we have an up and coming top group of kids. To all the people that volunteer their time, money and patience thank you. You are the ones that are truly helping the kids.

So, thanks everybody for another super year and let's gallop into another one.

Regards Executive Director – Committees

Marcus Jones

Steve Augustin – Executive Director – Animal Welfare

2017 done and dusted and as for animal welfare was pretty-plain sailing with very minimal issues and were all resolved with ease, I believe that we are making headway to be on same page with satisfactory stock for our rodeos and to have the welfare of our bucking livestock a priority, with animal liberation constantly hot on our heels we all must be very mindful on our actions in and around arena.

I'm honoured to continue as animal welfare representative and hope to continue the growth of our sport and to be as approachable as possible to every member with any concerns, thanks and Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Steve Augustin

Jay Green – Operational Director Rope & Tie Event

2017 presented the National Rodeo Association with a stellar year of competition in the Rope and Tie. The title race was won intrepidly by Clay Gall, over the valiant Brock Eastwell. The competition came down to the wire and had fans enthralled to the very last moment. Congratulations go to both competitors for providing us with a finals race worthy of the history books. Both Clay and Brock are gentlemen of the sport and are excellent ambassadors for this event.

The standard of Rope and Tie this year was very high. This is a credit to all competitors and the endless effort they put in to making this sport what it is. It is extremely pleasing to see the development of several young rope and tie horses and the distance they have travelled this year. After all Rope and Tie competitors are not just competitors at a rodeo, they are athletes and horse trainers. It is a credit to these cowboys and their efforts transcend this event alone.

The quality of stock this year, looking at it as a whole, has been very high. Congratulations to all stock contractors for providing this sport with arguably the best product in recent history. We have made an excellent progression to having the ideal product presented consistently at every rodeo. We should also acknowledge the efforts of the cowboys that sacrificed time and sweat to prepare the stock for the rodeos. Finally thank you to all committees, back yard men, box openers and anyone that contributed to making this sport possible.

Yours in Rodeo.

Reports

James O'Toole – Operational Director Saddle Ride Event

I would like to start by thanking the board and the Directors for a great year of rodeo. It has been reasonably smooth sailing throughout the year in regard to the Saddle Bronc contest.

To the contractors, I feel the stock have been well presented and have performed to a high standard all year, so congratulations all round. I'd like to thank the officials and contractors for being approachable and easy to deal with. Problems were able to be dealt with in a professional manner with minimal issues having to be addressed.

Congratulations to CMC Stock Contractors for taking out the three major Rough Stock Awards for the year end, and for Buffalo Bill taking out his sixth consecutive Bucking Horse of the Year.

The Pick-up men have done an exceptionally great job all year, with Tom Durbridge taking out Pick up Man of the Year. Congratulations Tom on another award.

It was great to see the implementation of the Novice Bronc Ride and Bareback Ride at some of the bigger rodeos. It's great to see the Novice riders getting the chance to get on appropriate stock and continue to gain experience and confidence. I really hope this can continue in the future.

Congratulations to the Open and Rookie winners, to all the finalists and to everyone that got on a bronc throughout the year. On behalf of myself and the Bronc Riders I would like to thank Warburton Farrier Services for providing sponsorship towards the Finalist Jackets, your support is appreciated.

I wish you all a Merry Christmas and a safe and happy New Year. I wish the incoming Board and Directors a successful 2018 Rodeo Year. Due to work commitments I will not be renewing my application as a Director. Thank you for your support this year.

James O'Toole

Jordan O'Neill - Operational Director Steer Wrestling Event

Firstly I'd like to congratulate Lachlan O'Neill on a stellar year which included the 2017 NRA steer wrestling title, the finals average, 2017 APRA pro tour and the 2017 APRA steer wrestling title. A very deserving winner. Also, a huge well done to Braydon Knack on winning the 2017 rookie title a massive effort for a guy who only started a few years ago. The encouragement award went to Josh Horkings who was only 20 points off making his maiden finals. Overall it was a pretty quiet year as a steer wrestling director, a few minor complaints but nothing we couldn't resolve. The stock was of a good standard with quiet a lot of quick times required to win and place. One thing I would like to bring up and I implore not only the board but the whole association; we need to be more vigilant on our animal welfare. Because of our geographical location and the majority of our rodeos being close to major cities it is something that we need to be proactive about. Don't be scared to voice your opinion if you think someone is neglecting to use their head. Whilst on that note I believe that contractors need to bring animal welfare into their mind when selecting stock to take to rodeos. If you think it's going to look bad at a rodeo, LEAVE IT AT HOME. I personally would not like to be remembered as the guy who got rodeo stopped in Australia so let's stay on the front foot with it.

It's been an honour and a pleasure serving as director the last 2 years, it really opened my eyes up to what goes on behind the scenes to run a rodeo and an association. I hope I served all the bulldoggers well in the 2 years of being director. See you all down the road somewhere.

Jordan O'Neill

Josh Green – Operational Director Team Roping Event

Another great year team roping just like to congratulate the champions on a job well done. Few small dramas across the year just like all members to know to please come and see me if they have any problem at a rodeo and I'll do my best to fix the issue. Team roping cattle this year have been good I'd like to thank the contractors for their efforts.

Time event competitors are most defiantly our strongest entries in the NRA and I'd just like to take the time and thank you guys for continuing to support our sport.

Cheers guys.

Reports

Nicky Cavanagh – Operational Director Breakaway Roping / Steer Undecorating Events

I started to write my report and then realised it is very similar to last year. Again, we had an uneventful year with breakaway ropers and steer undecorator's. Again, the end of year winners came down to the last round of the finals. Congratulations Shanae for winning the breakaway title as well as finals average. Kylie Hancock was runner-up in the breakaway and the winner of the western buckle series. It sure was exciting roping to watch. Congratulations to our Rookie this year- Lisa Munroe. This year the encouragement award for breakaway goes to Sam Hesse.

Thanks again to the stock contractors for bringing an even line of cattle for both events, I know how hard this can be. Rachelle Jackson has done some fundraising for the breakaway roping finalists (thank you) - each finalist received a halter made by Kel Webb from Kobas Kreations. Rachelle is hoping to continue the fundraising with an aim to pay entries for the breakaway finalists in 2018, another incentive to make the finals. Please help and support Rachelle when possible. Thanks to Kel for sponsoring some of the halters for both events.

The Steer undecorating also came down to the last round of the finals, congratulations to Katie Vaughan on runner up and winning the finals average. I'd like to thank everyone who supported me and believed in me.

I'd like to thank those who helped by opening the timed event box, lining out, keeping calves/ steers straight/ putting ribbons on. A lot of work goes into the smooth running of a rodeo.

Congratulations Kylie Siebenhausen for winning All Round Cowgirl, and all the other event winners.

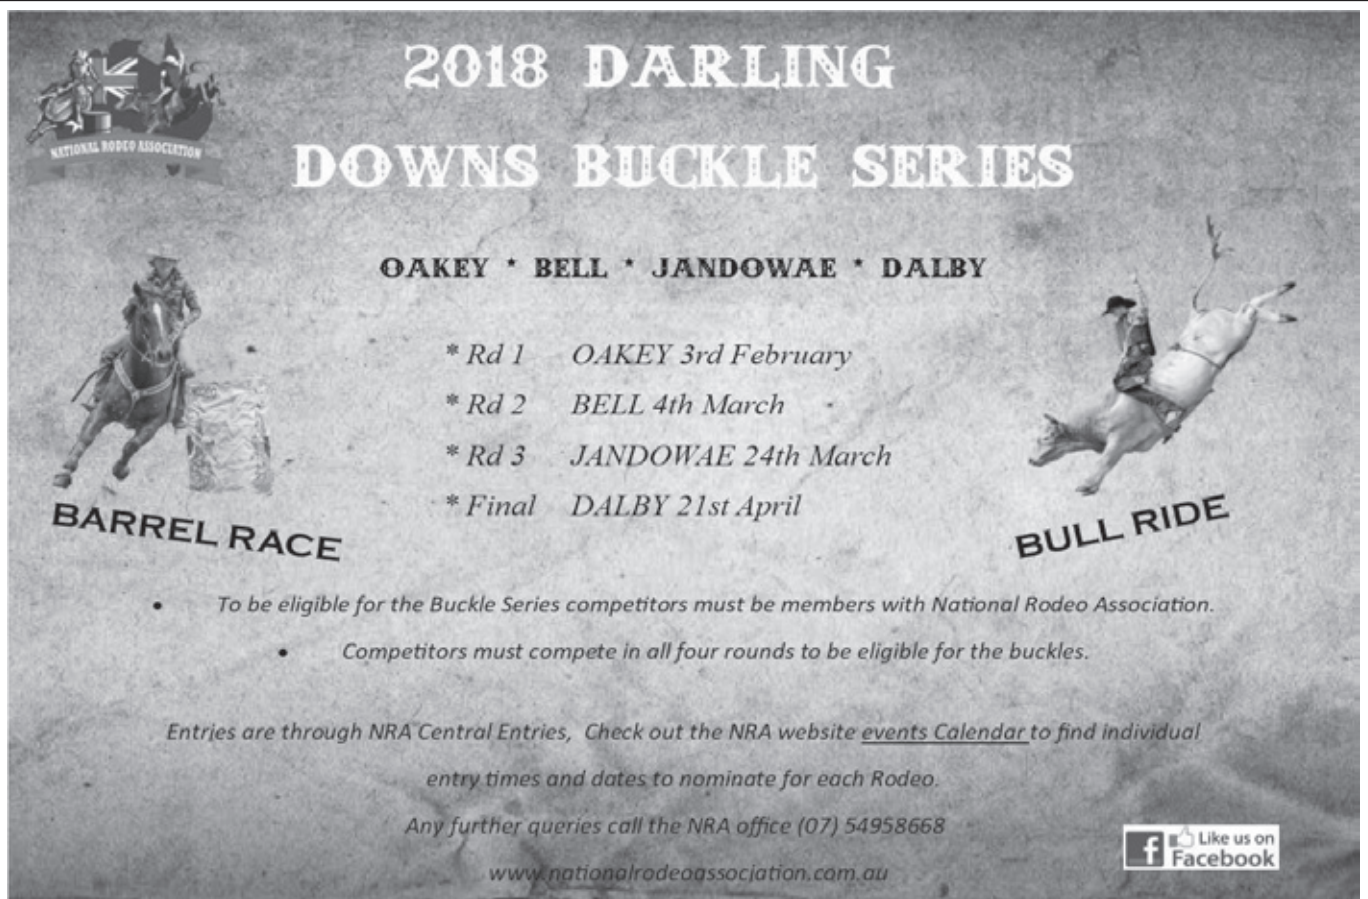

Congratulations to our outgoing Rodeo Queen, Kayhla Small on following through on the role right to the end, with so much fundraising for the association. You have big boots to fill! Congratulations Credence, Kayla and Abbey, our new Rodeo Royalty- I am sure you will all enjoy the following year.

I will continue as the Director for the next two years. If anyone has any suggestions, please come talk to me. I am happy to listen and do my best for represent the members at our board meetings.

Enjoy a Merry Christmas. We hope to see you all back in the 2018 season. Don't forget to get the memberships paid up to avoid any late fees.

Yours in Rodeo,

Nicky Cavanagh
