TO ALL THE NRA JUNIOR COMPETITORS

It has been very disappointing to have had some instances of underage competitors drinking in the licenced bar area at rodeos and around the camps at the grounds.

I don't know if these juniors fully understand the consequences of their actions, not just to themselves, but to the association, the committees and towns putting on these rodeos, their fellow competitors and especially their parents.

The penalty for a junior NRA member seen drinking in the licenced area at a rodeo is a ten Rodeo suspension for the first offence. The penalty for the second offence is to be suspended until they are eighteen years old. That is the end of your junior rodeo career at the NRA. Please think about that for a moment.

If the police catch a minor drinking in the bar, they will issue massive fines to the committee. It can be up to $32,000. They will also put so many conditions on them for future rodeos that most committees will simply give up having rodeos. This has happened in the past. Some of these rodeos have been going for decades. How would you feel if your actions deprived that town of their rodeo, which is often one of the main events in that town? That is also very unfair on your fellow competitors.

I would like you to think about your parents and the time and money they sacrifice carting you down the road most weekends. Do you really want to repay them for this commitment by embarrassing them by being suspended for ten rodeos or worse by throwing away your junior career?

NRA Junior Director,

Brett Gallaway
